

S1 CREDES Checklist:*Recommendations for the Conducting and REporting of DElphi Studies (CREDES)[1]*Reaching consensus on the definition of person-centred handover practices in emergency departments: A modified online Delphi

Items of reporting	Reported on page
Purpose and rationale. The purpose of the study was to reach consensus on the concept definition of person-centred handover practices in emergency departments. A modified Delphi study was used due to its applicability to reach the aim of this study. A pre-defined definition was provided to participants to comment on.	5
Expert panel. Participant selection and inclusion criteria was described.	5 and 7
Description of the methods. Discussed under data collection and data analysis. Each round was described.	6
Procedure. Was discussed under methods page 4. The Delphi survey was conducted in three phases as suggested by Beiderbeck et al.	4
Definition and attainment of consensus.	5-6
Results. Results from each round was presented for attribute and the concept definition. Followed by a discussion of the results	7 - 15 15 - 17
Discussion of limitations. Limitations were identified and discussed.	17
Adequacy of conclusions.	15 - 17
Publication and dissemination. This paper is for publication purposes.

1. Jünger S, Payne SA, Brine J, Radbruch L, Brearley SG. Guidance on Conducting and REporting DElphi Studies (CREDES) in palliative care: Recommendations based on a methodological systematic review. Palliat Med. 2017;31: 684–706. doi:10.1177/0269216317690685